THIEVES THAT COME IN THE NIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Channell, of 445 River Rd. were wondering what kind of people they were, who came, with flashlights, at midnite, and stole their strawberries. Mr. Channell is retired, and the income from his vegetables helps to support them. These people were not strangers, because they knew where to go for the berries.

For our independence, our forefathers fought. They had a dream of freedom, and they fought for it. Today, our nation is being rent asunder, because today, too, men have a dream, and they are fighting for it. We, who are the establishment, must come to terms with the inevitable changes in our social structure. Yesterday is gone, and it won't be back. America can have a happening, like an avalanche sweeping down a mountain, changing the contour of the land with its destructive force, or it can rise to acknowledge the demands for overdue justice for all its people.

TEACHERS FORM NEW GROUP

BOSTON - A new organization by which teachers will support political candidates pledged to better education has been formed by the Massachusetts Teachers Association.

The new group is the Association for Better Citizenship (ABC), which will not be affiliated with any political party and will operate as an independent state-wide organization.

William H. Hebert, executive Secretary-treasurer of the MTA, said membership in the ABC will be open to individual teachers, and organizations, firms or institutions committed to strengthening the cause of public education in Massachusetts.

"Every citizen has a right and an obligation to support the political party of his choice, and to make contributions to candidates of his choice. Through the ABC, teachers collectively can provide, on a non-partisan basis, financial support for those candidates who support educational programs and improvements."

The ABC will have no dues; it will be financed exclusively through contributions. It will be a separate, unincorporated association, not linked directly to the MTA, although officers of

LEONARDI TRIBUTE SAT. NIGHT

Sportsminded people of all ages and sizes will fill the vastness of the National Guard Armory on Maynard Street Saturday night, June 29th, to pay tribute to Harry Leonardi, former coach of Agawam High School's most successful football teams.

In that crowd will be young men, many of them former stars, many of them just past team members, who will be there to honor their former coach, not only because he was a great teacher of football fundamentals but because he knew how to get the best out of a boy and insisted on nothing less than the best - a discipline that made them men. And they loved him for it.

And in that crowd will be parents of these young men who will be there to gratefully acknowledge the part that he played in molding the characters of their sons, a job he worked at seven days a week.

And in that crowd will be the Saturday afternoon football fans who packed the stands, there because they loved his kind of football and want to let him know it. And there will be his fellow coaches and his many friends.

They will all be there to show this man how much he really meant.

FONTANA CAMPAIGNS FOR RE-ELECTION

Attorney Raymond J. Fontana of Longmeadow announced today that he is a candidate for re-election to a second term as a member of the Governor's Council from the 8th Councillor District, which includes 92 cities and towns in the counties of Hampden, Berkshire, Hampshire and Franklin.

In a statement, Attorney Fontana said:

"I am at this time announcing my candidacy for re-election to the Governor's Council, and requesting the support of the people of Western Massachusetts who two years ago gave me a plurality of almost 50,000 votes.

"I believe that my close association with the governor has made it possible for me to function effectively in behalf of the people of the 8th District, and I can see definite advantages in view of the fact that I will - if elected - be serving with the governor and the same constitutional officers during the next two years.

"This continuity of office, and my relationship with the governor, can prove of benefit to the Western Massachusetts area by, in effect, giving the people of the district a more personalized representation in Boston.

"I have sought - successfully, I believe - to do a good job as a member of the Governor's Council, and while the position is not often accompanied by the headlines given other offices, the work of meeting the needs and problems of the people is endless - and personally most satisfying.

"If re-elected to the Governor's Council, I will serve with the same dedication and attention to duty that I have given the position during the two years of my first term.

"I will continue to take the responsibility of the office seriously and make the needs of the Western Massachusetts area known in Boston."

Mr. Fontana also noted that "during my two years as a member of the Governor's Council I brought the Council to Western Massachusetts three times," a historical first for this end of the state.

He said he is currently developing his campaign organization and will announce key campaign appointments during the next few weeks.

Mr. Fontana is a practicing attorney and president of the Fontana Insurance Agency, Inc., with offices at 95 State Street in Springfield. He served as a lieutenant in the U.S. Naval Reserve and until becoming a member of the Governor's Council was a member of Governor Volpe's military staff, serving as the governor's military aide-de-camp.

Mr. Fontana is a 1941 graduate of Classical High School in Springfield, and graduated from Dartmouth College in 1944, receiving his A.B. degree. He holds a law degree from Northeastern University School of Law.

He is a veteran of two wars. During World War II he was executive officer of an LST and participated in the Battle of the Philippines and the invasion of Okinawa. During the Korean War, he was first aboard an attack transport, later serving as legal and trial counsel and education officer at the U.S. Naval Station, Annapolis, Maryland, and later at the U.S. Naval Receiving Station in Boston.

His business and professional affiliations include: the American, Hampden County, Massachusetts and Maine Bar Associations; member and past president of the Springfield Association of Insurance Agents; director of the Union Federal Savings and Loan Association and Trustee of American International College.

Mr. Fontana's civic affiliations: former chairman of the Longmeadow Board of Fire Commissioners, former member of the executive committee of the Springfield Community Council, director and former president of the South End Community Center, member of the Breakfast Club committee of the Joint Civic Agencies of Greater Springfield, member and past president of Springfield Chapter Unico National, former New England expansion director of Unico National, and past Massachusetts district governor of Unico National.

He is a member and former president of the Dartmouth Club of Springfield, the Valley Press Club and Kappa Sigma National Fraternity, the Hampden County Republican Club and the Longmeadow Republican Town Committee.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

Hornpout rarely hit artificial lures, but they are suckers for a tasty morsel of worm fished right on the bottom. They are also one of the few species that bite well at night, according to the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Game. Essential equipment for night fishing at this time of year is a good flashlight and your favorite insect repellent.

Dry flies and small streamers fished in your favorite waters early and late in the day will produce some fine catches of trout at this time of the season, according to the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Game.

Fishing from a boat? If so, be sure you have approved life preservers or cushions aboard for each member of your party. The best bet for youngsters is a suitable life preserver that they put on before they step foot aboard, and don't take off until they come ashore again, according to the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Game. Better safe than sorry.

FEDERAL FUNDS FOR LOCAL COLLEGE LIBRARIES

WASHINGTON, D.C. JUNE 19. . . . The U. S. Office of Education has granted over $110,000 to nine colleges in the First Congressional District for the purchase of library materials, U. S. Representative Silvio O. Conte announced today.

The University of Massachusetts in Amherst received $57,445 the largest in the local series of grants. The funds come from the Office of Education's College Library Resources Program.

The awards consist of a basic grant of $5,000 set by law and varying amounts of supplemental grants. Each institution is required to match the basic grant with an equal amount from other sources. It must also meet "maintenance of effort" requirements in its own expenditures for library purposes and library materials.

The following is a list of the other institutions awarded grants in the First District: AMHERST COLLEGE, Amherst $5,000; BERKSHIRE COMMUNITY COLLEGE, Pittsfield $5,980; GREENFIELD COMMUNITY

Seafood Newburg For Bride's Luncheon

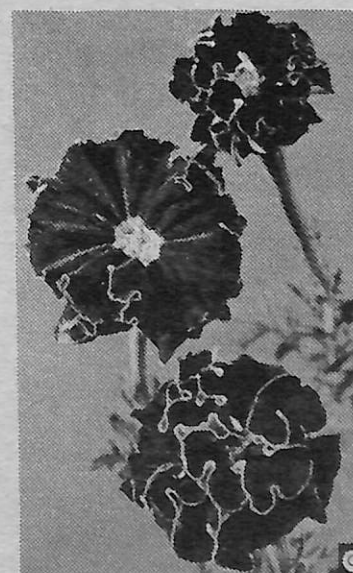

This superb recipe for Seafood Newburg is ideal for an intimate bride's luncheon or for the Wednesday club group. Serve it over toast with asparagus or green peas and a tossed salad.

Seafood Newburg

2 tablespoons corn starch	2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon salt	2 cups cut up cooked lobster meat or crab meat or cleaned cooked shrimp
1 teaspoon paprika
Dash cayenne
2 cups light cream

Melt margarine in saucepan. Blend in corn starch, salt, paprika and cayenne. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in cream. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to boil and boils 1 minute. Reduce heat. Gradually stir in sherry. Blend a little hot mixture into eggs, then stir all into remaining hot mixture in saucepan. Add selected seafood. Heat, but do not boil, using chafing dish, if desired. Serve over toast or in toast cups. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

DARK FOR CONTRAST

Sometimes a dark-colored flower is just what you need to furnish a contrast with lighter, brighter blooms.

Such a contrast is possible in the single French marigolds by using such varieties as Redhead or Ruffled Red planted with yellow, gold or orange-flowered kinds.

These colors are found in varieties like Sunny, which has clear yellow blooms or the golden yellow flowers of Naughty Marietta which are blotched maroon at the petal bases.

All four varieties named will form plants that are round and mounded at the tops.

Not only is such contrast effective in the garden, but it also helps the flower arranger to achieve greater interest by using the darker colored blooms lower in an arrangement.

Green Thumb Tips

It's easier to cultivate between rows of vegetables than it is to weed. What's the difference?

When weeding you remove an offending plant, roots and
all. When cultivating you just cut off the tops with the hoe or cultivator and the roots are left in the soil.

When weeds are tiny, cultivation is sufficient to kill them.
If they're large, it's best to weed.

Calendulas can be sown twice during the garden season—in spring for flowers during summer and in summer for fall bloom. Where climate is mild, calendulas are considered winter flowers.

Growing Swiss chard? Har-

are from 10 inches to a foot tall—no taller. Then let the inner leaves grow until they reach that same size. In this way you'll have young, crisp greens to eat instead of old,
tough ones.
